Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-3 are drawn to a method for implementing vending of services and products over a telecommunications network. The invention is characterized in that a client can select services or products from a voice-message menu and that the billing is effected via the client's telephone bill.

Group II, claims 4-10 are drawn to a method by which a call control database makes a request to another database with real-time information and a voice message menu containing products and their prices is played.

Group III claims 11-17 relates to a method that presents a list of purchased products or services and the price for each item as well as the total price to the customer. That information is also sent to the service provider.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Group I: A service provider updates his information database in real time.

Group II: A call is forwarded to an exchange, which sends a request to an SCP call control database. That database sends a further request to another database, which contains real time product and price information. Finally a voice message menu is played for the caller update his information

Group III: The real time status of a shopping cart is stored in the SCP call control database. When the shopping is done, a specified bill is presented for the client. Information is also sent to the service provider.

Art Unit: 3693

There is no common or corresponding feature among the inventions, which can be considered as a special technical feature within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2, second sentence.

Therefore, no technical relationship within the meaning of Rule 13 can be seen. Consequently, the three inventions (Group I=claims 1-3, Group II=claims 1-10 and III=claims 11-17), a posteriori, do not satisfy the requirements of unity of invention.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Att. James M. Slattery (#28380) on 8/10/06 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to JAGDISH PATEL whose telephone number is (571)272-6748.

The examiner can normally be reached on 800AM-600PM M-Th.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, James Trammel can be reached on (571)272-6712. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
